A touch of the Mediterranean, just an hour from Melbourne

The Mornington Peninsula is just an hour from Melbourne, but you'll quickly feel a world away from the city. There's more than a touch of the Mediterranean here, with dozens of beautiful bay and ocean beaches, vineyards and olive groves in the hinterland, seaside and

You can book accommodation ranging from a grand country house hotel to a sea-breezy apartment, but wherever you stay, you'll find it's incredibly easy to explore the Peninsula. Excellent roads run the length of our two coastlines, and peaceful country roads criss-cross the hinterland. You'll find delightful surprises around almost every corner, so do use this map to help plan your stay.

this region both to Monterey in California and Fife in Scotland. It's one of the world's great golfing regions – and it's also one of the new world's finest wine regions. Try the hallmark Pinot Noir and Then take a walk along a secluded sandy beach or a soaring cliff top, through a national park or a grand historic garden, or lose yourself in one of our famous hedge mazes. There's still plenty more to see and do: a fishing trip, dolphin swim or a cruise on Port Phillip Bay, a visit to the many produce farms, or a little well-deserved indulgence in one of our day spas.
